

See eye-opening current events documentaries free at the EYES WIDE OPEN film series presented by U.S. Citizens for Peace & Justice - Rome

Thursday, February 2nd, 8pm, Adam Curtis presents another mind-blowing film:

HyperNormalisation

by Adam Curtis
(2016) 166 minutes

From the Prologue: "We live in a world where the powerful deceive us. We know they lie, they know we know, they don't care. We say we care, but we do nothing. And nothing ever changes. It's normal. Welcome to post-truth politics." A highly suggestive work of art, HyperNormalization will open your eyes to connections you had never considered between the political and social events of the past half century. Oscar-winning filmmaker Errol Morris once said: "I want to be Adam Curtis when I grow up." At his third film only, Curtis has become a master.

Venue: Circolo ARCI Arcobaleno, 1 Via Pullino (Garbatella)

How to get there:

Metro: B line to the Garbatella stop; take the Via Pullino exit; go right to Piazza Albini; via Pullino continues on the other side; at n°1, at the end of the block, go down the steps into the ARCI/Arcobaleno clubroom.

Bus: 673 from San Giovanni or Colosseum, 715 from P.za Venezia, 23 from Trastevere.

Doors open at 7:30pm. Films begin at 8pm, followed by a brief discussion (in English but Italian can also be used). Drinks and a light dinner can be enjoyed while viewing. Films are in English or with English subtitles. Most are first showings in Rome!

Films are free (but small donations are welcome). Arcobaleno membership is €7 per year (valid for various discounts in Rome).

Any last-minute program changes are posted on our web site: www.peaceandjustice.it

➔ Want to propose – and help choose – the films we see and discuss? Come to our film series meetings. Dates, times on our site. Or write: film-series@gmx.us Remember: we're looking for eye-opening current events docs.

➔ Want to learn about (or come to) our peace initiatives in Rome? Join our mailing list: www.peaceandjustice.it