Feb 7 - Why We Fight (2005)

Surveys a half-century of military conflicts, asking how - and answering why - a nation of, by and for the people has become the savings-and-loan of a government system whose survival depends on an Orwellian state of constant war.

*Special benefit screening for Spc. Agustín Aguayo, currently being held in a U.S. military prison in Germany for refusing to deploy to Iraq.

Feb 21 - Who Killed the Electric Car (2006)

Chronicles the life and mysterious death of the GM EV1, examining its ripple effects and how they reverberated through the government and big business. With rising fuel prices, unrest in oil producing regions around the globe and mainstream consumer adoption of the hybrid electric car, this story couldn't be more relevant or important.

Mar 7 - The Iron Wall (2006)

Following the 1967 occupation of the West Bank and Gaza, more than 200 settlements and outposts have been built in violation of international law. The film follows the timeline, size, and population of the settlements, revealing how their construction has been a cornerstone of Israeli policy, and demonstrates how the Wall secures them as permanent and irreversible facts on the ground.

Mar 21 - Terrorstorm (2006)

Alex Jones takes a look at global terrorist attacks, including Italy, and the bombings in London and Madrid. Jones is highly critical of the methodology behind the various governments who are fighting back against such activities, and offers some pointers on how he thinks these situations can be resolved peacefully.

Apr 4 - Conservative Film Special, The Ultra-Left: What They Really Think (2004)

You'll hear the "Leftist Wisdom" from such enlightened sources as fanatical protesters, elitist academics, and the Clintons. A total of 35 liberal beliefs are addressed and the ideology that will make you blood boil . . . Don't miss the documentary the Left doesn't want you to see.

Apr 18 - Big Easy to Big Empty - The Untold Story of the Drowning of New Orleans (2006)

Greg Palast and his team visit New Orleans to investigate what has happened since Katrina devastated the Gulf Coast in 2005. He discovers that the population of New Orleans is miniscule, the reconstruction sparse, suicide rates are climbing, and many have not, nor know how to, return to their city.
